

Eastern sectional perspective with Stage House.

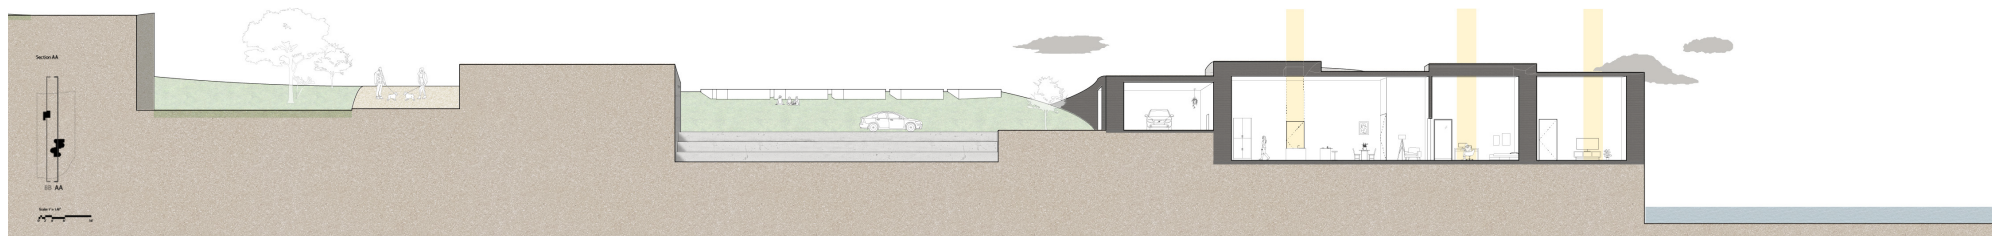

Render from shared driveway.

More people than ever returned to their former homes, attempting to rebuild amidst the burn scars. The precarious push-pull relationship between nature and humankind is illustrated through the two dwellings and their interactions with the crafted earthwork.

Render from river bed - Ribbon House

Western sectional perspective with Ribbon House.